PHOTO CHALLENGE

On May 31, 2019, the Canadian Institute of Planners will celebrate its 100th anniversary. In recognition of this occasion, NLAPP is encouraging everyone to get out and explore our great communities through a #CIP100 Photo Challenge. Throughout the month of June, as the weather (hopefully!) starts to get warmer, get ready to take some photos and share our beautiful province with the rest of Canada! Each day of the week has a theme.

#MySpotMonday – this would include pictures of the place you love to hangout in your neighbourhood or city

#TransformationTuesday – some area that has been redeveloped/updated/repainted that is of interest to you

#WackyWednesday – some wild/cool/abstract/funky development; maybe it's a building or mural or area that is different

#ThirstyThursday – your favorite place to get a drink (coffee/frozen/adult beverage/water fountain)

#FlashbackFriday – your favorite heritage/older buildings or old pictures that you have of your neighbourhood from back in the day

#SaturdaySweat – your favorite place to exercise or get out for fresh air

#SelfieSunday – take a selfie somewhere in your neighbourhood

Don't forget to tag @NL_Planners in the tweet so that we can re-tweet it. You can also use the some of the following hashtags!
